Goplay platform

Never before have kids been less active than today, and we would like to change that. Children should stay active, investigate, and explore the world, which is why we have launched the world's first O2O (Online 2 Offline) platform combining physical activity with entertainment.

Xplora's history and reputation as being one of the safest and most trusted companies to produce wearables designed for children, has allowed the company to be pioneers in this space.

Announcing partnerships with Sony PlayStation, Paramount Pictures' "Dora and the Lost City of Gold" movie and Fox Movies' "Spies in Disguise", Xplora is demonstrating that multiple renowned brands are already looking to innovative companies that can creatively and effectively deliver concepts that tackle the unbalanced screen time issue.

Our Goplay platform will encourage children to spend more time taking part in physical activities offline, in exchange for virtual rewards that can be redeemed online via a gaming platform.

Play to move the world
The Xplora Goplay Platform helps children and families learn that everyday activities have value and that their actions have an impact, giving kids a positive and safe start to the digital world.
